Friends of Manatee Lagoon appoints executive director

Friends of Manatee Lagoon recently announced the appointment of Sarah Marmion as its new executive director. Prior to joining the organization, Marmion served as senior manager of education and outreach for Florida Power & Light Company. In her new role, Marmion will oversee strategic planning, educational initiatives, fundraising, the annual Soiree for Seagrass, and community partnerships that support the mission of Manatee Lagoon to educate the public about manatees and the Lake Worth Lagoon ecosystem. “Sarah’s leadership and passion for conservation make her the perfect choice to guide Friends of Manatee Lagoon into its next chapter,” said Anne Messer, former executive director. Messer joined the board of directors following Marmion’s appointment. Friends of Manatee Lagoon is dedicated to protecting manatees in Florida’s coastal regions and restoring and protecting their aquatic habitat.
